- Miharo! - Ko tēnei kiwaha i te reo pākeha, ko te "amazing!".
- Pāia! - This kiwaha means, "Yeyah!".
- He toki koe! - This means, "you're good at that!".
- Whuuu! - Ko tēnei kiwaha i te reo pākeha, ko te "wow! Neat alright!". To use this kiwaha, you need to make your lips big and shake your upoko side to side.

AIMS 2022

AIMS 2022 was undoubtedly Clendon Park's best AIMS Games yet. Not only did we send a second team down to Tauranga for the first time ever (boys basketball, along with our netball team), but our results were, for a little school from Manurewa, simply incredible.

Our netball team claimed the first medal in Clendon Park history, securing bronze with their incredible third place finish (out of 110 teams). We are the only school in New Zealand that has qualified for the netball quarter finals in the last three AIMS Games - an absolutely mind-blowing accomplishment, when you consider that we currently have 161 Year 7-8 students on our roll, and we are often up against full intermediate schools, some of whom have 1,000+ students to choose their teams from.

Our boys basketballers had an unbelievable debut AIMS campaign, finishing in 5th place (out of 74 teams). For a team that went into AIMS just hoping to make it out of pool play, this was a fantastic result. They knocked out the defending champions in the round of 16, but were narrowly defeated in the quarter-finals. It was wonderful to see them show such magnificent resilience to win their last two games to secure 5th place overall.

Huge kudos must go to our players for their unwavering commitment to weekly training and games throughout the season. Massive thanks to our AIMS support crew of Whaea Marie, Miss Fonotia, Whaea Emilee and Whaea Maxine.

We are incredibly fortunate to have two of the best coaches in New Zealand at our school, in the form of Matua Fou and Matua Faenza. They give hours and hours of their own time to ensure that our teams are as prepared as possible to experience success at AIMS and our results this year were just reward for their amazing dedication.

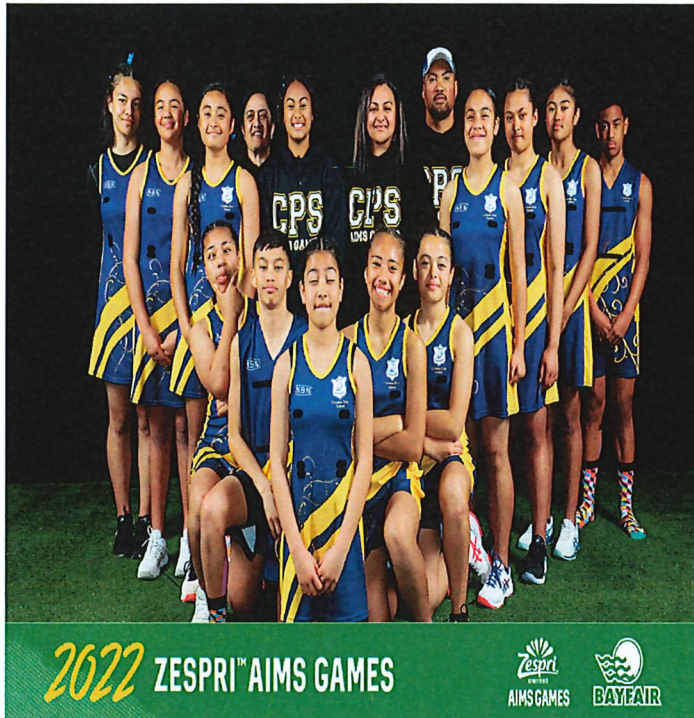

Bring on AIMS 2023!
